IN THE HOUSE

Ross House Association Member and Tenant News

Join the RHA Committee of Management!

FROM THE ROSS HOUSE TEAM

If you are interested in playing a key role in how Ross House is run, then a great way to do that is to stand for the RHA Committee.

Ross House is unique. It is the only self-managed and community-owned not-for-profit building in Australia. Our community includes over 100 member and tenant groups working together for social change, from social justice to environmental sustainability. Whatever your organisation's mission, you're part of the Ross House community, with a say in how the building is run.

Nine positions are open for election at this year's AGM in November:

- Chairperson– 2-year term
- Deputy Chairperson – 2-year term
- Treasurer– 2-year term
- Ordinary Member (3 positions) – 2-year terms
- Ordinary Member (3 positions) – 1-year terms

The Committee meets every second month (on the last Thursday, 2–4 pm) from February to November. Meetings are currently held online via Zoom.

If you are not ready to nominate for the full Committee, our sub-committees are another great way to get involved. The Community Development and Finance sub-committees are currently operating. To nominate for the Committee of Management, or for more information please get in touch with our CEO Michael at michael.griffiths@rosshouse.org.au or pop into the front desk.

This year's Ross House Association AGM will be held on Thursday, 26 November 2026 at 11.00 am. Official notifications and invitations will be sent out over the coming weeks.

Ross House Association acknowledges the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples as the traditional custodians of the lands where we live, learn and work. We respectfully acknowledge the Wurundjeri people of the Kulin Nation and the traditional owners of the land on which Ross House is located. We pay our respects to their Elders, past, present and emerging.

Colin's Corner

Welcome to Colin's Corner!

Colin Neave AM, Chairperson of the Ross House Association, shares some thoughts and highlights from the last couple of months.

I have a few updates for you all this month and a few opportunities to get involved at Ross House!

I'm pleased to share a quick update on the legislation that will allow Ross House to pursue Deductible Gift Recipient (DGR) status. The Bill passed its second reading in the House of Representatives on August 20 and is expected to return for its third reading when Parliament sits again in early September. After that, it will need to go through the Senate and then receive Royal Assent. We're hopeful that this won't take too long.

We're also continuing to work on security at Ross House. Staff will soon take part in Navigating Complex Conversations training with WIRE, which will be held here at Ross House. We'll also be welcoming the Proactive Policing Unit to talk with us about Crime Prevention Through Environmental Design. There are places available for tenants to take part in both sessions, so please have a look at the information in this newsletter if you're interested.

Finally, I'd like to encourage members to think about joining the Ross House Committee of Management. Our Committee should always have available to it the special input that can only come from people who are associated with our members.

We would love you to join our Committee and help with the administration of Ross House, which of course only exists because of the strength and commitment of its members. Whilst we have some great representation at the moment, I would like to see more! If you are interested, please make contact with me or Michael to discuss your possible involvement in any of the work of the Committee.

If joining the Committee isn't for you, but you're still interested in getting involved, we invite you to think about joining us in planning Ross House's 40th anniversary in October 2027! In the coming months, there will be an opportunity to join a working group to help plan the celebrations. If you're interested, please get in touch with any of the Ross House team.

Colin Neave AM, Chairperson
Ross House Association

Ross House Association continues to make incredible energy savings as a result of sustainability works to the building, behaviour change and continued commitment from the entire Ross House community.

Building and Maintenance

FROM THE ROSS HOUSE TEAM

There is always a lot going on in this big old building of ours, so please make sure you keep an eye out for the building maintenance emails that circulate regularly.

Current and completed works:

- A new member and tenant storeroom is currently the works opposite the Sue Healy meeting room on level 2.
- DDA-compliant bathrooms have been completed at the rear of level 3. See page 6 for more information.
- We will organise a fire drill in the coming weeks and will inform you of the scheduled date soon.
- We have fixed up a few leaks around the building over the last couple of months. Please let us know if you encounter any more.

GET INVOLVED! TRAINING AND OPPORTUNITIES

Ross House is turning 40 in October next year!

If you are interested in joining a working party to help brainstorm and plan an event for the occasion we would love to hear from you!

New Accessible Bathrooms are Finished!

FROM RHA

We're excited to let you know that new DDA-compliant bathroom facilities on Level 3 are finally complete!

The new Level 3 bathroom facilities have replaced the existing bathrooms at the rear of the floor.

They include:

- 1 gender-neutral accessible toilet and shower
- 1 ambulant women's toilet
- 1 ambulant men's toilet and 1 urinal

Thank you to the City of Melbourne, which contributed a grant of $20,000 to support this project through their Community Inclusion Grant.

Huge congratulations to the RHA team for pulling this off, despite all the hiccups and delays.

Especially Nazz for all his hard work managing this project.

Thank you once again, everyone, for your patience. We hope these new toilets make access on level 3 easier. If you have any feedback, good or bad please email rosshouse@rosshouse.org.au or pop to front desk for a chat.

Thanks
The Ross House Team

About Time

BY ABOUT TIME

About Time is Australia's national prison newspaper. We publish and distribute monthly editions to people in prison across the country, and work alongside legal, health and community-sector partners to improve access to reliable information, connection and support for people impacted by incarceration. It is also freely available online at www.abouttime.org.au.

About Time is a voice for incarcerated people. Every single day people from prison write to About Time to share their stories, their art and their feedback. The paper contains articles, short-stories, essays, writing, poems and artwork, with the majority created by people who are currently or were formerly incarcerated. About Time provides a window into the concealed world behind bars and a creative way for people to process their experiences.

We're a small and friendly team, and very excited to join Ross House - please pop in to say hello!

How to Support Us

Subscribe

With an About Time paper subscription, you will receive a physical copy of the latest edition of Australia's national newspaper, in the same week that the paper makes its way through prison.

A subscription is also one of the best ways to support the paper and ensure it remains "the printed voice of the prisons." If you are part of an organisation that wishes to subscribe in bulk, send us an email and we can provide a discount.

About Time

[ID: About Time logo: Black text which reads 'About Time' is angled in a clock-type position.]

Advertise

The paper includes advertisements by law firms and second chance/reintegration employment organisations, not-for-profits and government agencies offering services to people in prison or post-release. If you're interested in learning more, please visit www.abouttime.org.au/advertise.

Donate

Donations are crucial in helping us to continue publishing, printing and distributing the paper, and support incarcerated and formerly incarcerated writers and artists to share their stories.

You can donate here: www.abouttime.org.au/donate
Thank you again for your interest and support and looking forward to joining Ross House.

For further information about About Time, please visit www.abouttime.org.au.

Beyond the Project: Sustaining Women's Economic Empowerment

BY ASSISI AIDS
PROJECTS

Since 2022, we've placed a strong emphasis on sustainability and locally led development when designing our projects across the Asia-Pacific. And now, we're seeing this effort really pay off.

We're very happy to share the lasting impact of our project in Indonesia, where the outcomes are continuing to grow from strength to strength more than 12 months after the conclusion of our project.

Since the tourism and MSME (Micro, Small and Medium Enterprise) project formally concluded in June 2025, the community has continued to organise tourism trips and traditional markets independently, bringing in new visitors to the region and gaining attention from the local government for the positive impact on the local community and economy.

Community participation and interest in the trips and markets continues to rise. Residents who were not initially involved have become interested after seeing women increase their incomes, learn saving habits, and establish stable customer bases at the market, helping them to become financially independent.

[ID: Black text which reads 'Assisi Aid Projects, Empowering Change' sits underneath a pink arch graphic.]

Based on feedback from community members, we estimate that while there were more than 280 direct participants in the project, the broader community impact reaches well over 2,000 people across Girikerto and neighbouring villages.

TreeProject Planting Days

BY TREEPROJECT

Planting season is coming to an end for TreeProject after a jam packed few months.

There are only a handful of days left in September. It's been an enormous effort from all involved – from Wiebke, our revegetation coordinator, through to the volunteer team leaders, coordinators and planters who have been out there in all weather conditions.

Some mornings started off extremely chilly, but once the sun was up and people started digging holes, everyone warmed up and was buoyed by the hot and hearty meal put on by the landholder. We are so grateful for all of the resilient volunteers we have met this Winter – it has been a hugely successful planting season in 2026.

For now, focus is shifting, with orders for next season underway. At the same time as we are taking orders from Landholders, we are reaching out for volunteer growers to join the TreeProject cycle of life. We hope there are even more volunteer growers next season, discovering the magic of propagation in their backyards.

So it is a change of pace for TreeProject over the next month, but as always, there is a lot going on to contribute to sowing the seeds for a sustainable future.

October is Mental Health Month

BY SCHIZY INC

Some people call it mental health, others think of it more as emotional, spiritual, brain-body connection or personal wellbeing. Mental means 'of the mind' (Latin) and health stems from many old languages, basically meaning 'whole' or 'uninjured'.

Just like the weather, mental health is reliant on different things - our unique biology, upbringing, discoveries and realisations growing up, and our genes, including our chemistry and physiology. In today's understanding, it can also do with what our social environments are doing to influence the way we feel or think about ourselves, rather than just the way we are (perhaps that's the injury bit).

Mental health can fluctuate. Sometimes we feel fine. But then something happens in our environment that changes things, and we start to feel sad, angry or confused. We might be reminded of tough times or difficult people. When we do get these bigger feelings or thoughts, it's time to talk to someone we trust.

It's an old, but true saying 'a problem shared, is a problem halved.' Having a chat over a cuppa with a mate might even solve the problem altogether. Or perhaps they will listen quietly and give you space to work it out yourself. Both are good.

World Mental Health Day Event

Schizy Inc is hosting a community picnic for World Mental Health Day beside the gentle waters of the Birrarung, where nature provides space to pause, reflect and reconnect. 'Birrarung as a Sanctuary' by Parks Victoria.

[ID: Schitzy Inc logo which says 'Schitzy Inc' in yellow text on a black circle background with a red border. There are blue, purple and red love hearts on the black circle too.]

Bring along a picnic lunch, favourite picnic games or an acoustic instrument, and enjoy an afternoon of easy conversation, light-hearted fun and music beneath the open sky.

Whether you'd like to connect with others, spend quiet time by the river or simply enjoy the peaceful surroundings, everyone is welcome. Come with friends, bring your family, or simply come as you are. Reconnect with nature. Reconnect with others. Reconnect with yourself.

Where? Yarra Bend Park, Loop Picnic Area, Fairfield

When? Saturday 10th October 2026, 12pm - 3pm

Schizy Inc Cabaret Workshops

BY SCHIZY INC

Schizy Inc makes space in the arts for people with diverse complex mental health.

Our innovative activities champion artist development, empower lived experience community, tailor dignified vocational pathways and radically improve arts sector diversity and audience and modern creative representation.

Programs extend across contemporary practice in visual arts, literature and the performing arts, including theatre, comedy, music, dance and cabaret, and a progressive connected program of outdoor creative nature experiences.

RAD CACTUS COMEDY

Rad - epic, awesome, cool.

Cactus - rubbish, broken (a bit like the mental health system maybe?)

Workshops and arts connection for all the mental health Lived Experience community.

Suitable for brand new and experienced comedy writers, performers and creatives from other artforms. Turn all those observations and opinions about the mental health system and psych wards into comedy gold! Comedy is for anyone who wants to have the last laugh at that annoying thing (even it's just the cat).

Where? Ross House, 247-251 Flinders Lane, Melbourne

When? Saturdays, 5th & 12th September 2026, 2pm - 4pm

To register, please contact the Schizy team on neuro@schizy.org.

[ID: A green cartoon cactus with a red hat and glasses, is holding a microphone in a party-type setting.]

CABARET

Learn the art of Cabaret through a series of practical workshops with very talented cabaret creatives and directors Myf Powell and Rachel Edward.

The term 'cabaret' evokes everything from glittering theatrical performances to darker metaphors of political and societal oppression (perfect for anyone irked by the mental health system!) It's theatre, song, music and comedy all rolled into one glorious artform. If you tend to have feels for life, love, loss or laughter, or just enjoy a good old song-and-dance, cabaret is the artform for you.

An interest or skills in music or singing is recommended as cabaret is music based but not essential.

Where? Ross House, 247-251 Flinders Lane, Melbourne

When? Saturdays, 3rd & 10th October, 14th & 21st November 2026, 2pm - 4pm

Window Displays

BY RHA

We've seen some wonderful displays over the winter months.

The month of August saw Brain Injury Matters and Australia-China Friendship Society in the window and I can attest to the fact that people do notice and look at the displays... and then sometimes even come up to reception to inquire about the groups displayed. A caring support worker happened to be walking past Ross House and saw the display from BIM and then came up to enquire about the Peer Support Groups they run

In July, we saw Housing for the Aged Action Group (HAAG) advertise their vital Home At Last service.

For any queries about our window displays, please get in touch with Carol at rosshouse@rosshouse.org.au.

Looking ahead:

The month of September will see Brain Injury Matters continuing with their display and ABC Friends setting up a new display which we will look forward to!

Thank you to everyone for their enthusiasm with filling our window. All months are now booked with some great displays to go in. Soon we'll start thinking about 2027 bookings. Keep an eye on your email inbox for next year's window bookings.

2027 ROOM BOOKINGS

It is that time of year again when we consider regular and recurring meeting room bookings for the coming year!

As a tenant or member of Ross House, you have the opportunity to request bookings ahead of external groups, to ensure any requirements can be met for your meetings in 2027.

An email about your requests will hit your inbox in the upcoming weeks so please keep your eyes peeled!
